EQUUS FOUNDATION

When you look into a horse's eyes, what do you see?
At the EQUUS Foundation, we see Magic!

Horses are a perpetual source of encouragement and inspiration, empowering people to be all that they can be. They bring joy to young and old alike – and make those with the deepest of wounds whole again.

However, horses are also confronted with a disturbing reality, and their future may be in jeopardy. Tens of thousands of young healthy horses continue to be transported across our borders to be slaughtered each year.

We make it our mission to protect and save America's horses at risk of abuse, neglect and slaughter through partnerships with equine organizations across the nation and by investing in new and innovative collaborations between horses and people.

Join us to help ensure a safe and sustainable environment for horses now and in the future.
For The Love of Horses!
